Details of Programme

Goals & Objectives:

To orient the students with the new computer language i.e Python.

Highlights of the Program:

The college undertook a series of webinars and lectures during the COVID-19 pandemic lockdown in order to equip the students with the skills necessary to cope with the stressful situation. The series also attempts to keep the students motivated and provides them with necessary computing skills. As a part of this series the Dept. of Commerce & Mgt. Science of the college organized a guest lecture on 27th May 2021. Dr. Nazneen Akhtar, P.G. Dept of Computer Science, Maulana Azad College, Aurangabad was the resource person.

In her informative lecture she lucidly explained the development of PYTHON language in the field of computer languages. She highlighted the objective and the scope for PYTHON language as a leading programming language. She also effectively dealt with the technical aspects of the language and gave a clear idea to the audience about the usage and advantages of the language. She discussed in detail various career opportunities in PYTHON language. The lecture was followed by Q&A session moderated by Mohd. Mohiuddin for the students. Dr. Nazneen Akhtar patiently answered all the questions posed by the students.

The session was presided over by Principal Dr. Mazhar Ahemad Farooqui sir. In his address he emphasized on the need for keeping oneself updated and upgraded. He also said that the importance of PYTHON as an upcoming language cannot be denied. He further motivated the students to take up
